Summary of Role

The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award is the world's leading youth achievement award, operating in over 130 countries and territories. Since 1956, millions of young people worldwide have earned their Award by developing transferrable skills, increasing fitness levels, cultivating a sense of adventure, and volunteering in their communities. The Award helps young people ages 14-24 discover their purpose, passion, and place in the world. Today, there are more than 1 million active participants globally using the proven learning framework to develop life skills and achieve their infinite potential.

The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award USA is seeking a passionate, energetic, influential, and goal-oriented Program Officer to support and expand the Award network across the United States so that more young people can achieve the positive impact of the program. The Program Officer will grow the Award in the United States through the onboarding of new delivery partners, ongoing support, and quality assurance of Award Centers. The person in this position should be an enthusiastic advocate for young people and mission-driven. They should have a proven track record of training adults and facilitating continuous improvement in curriculum materials and resources. The ideal candidate will be a strong relationship builder with the ability to communicate effectively with partners in a youth-centered way. Having dynamic and engaging presentation skills, they will seek opportunities to raise awareness of the Award and improve access for all young people. The Program Officer will be an outdoor enthusiast with awareness on how to guide and support others in an outdoor expedition or exploration. They will be familiar with outdoor risk management and youth safeguarding strategies. They should be able to educate others on outdoor preparation and training and instill a sense of adventure and self-discovery in a group setting.

Key Areas of Responsibility
