

THE AWARD

&

THE INTERNATIONAL BACCALAUREATE

DID YOU KNOW?

The Duke of Edinburgh's International Award can be used as a framework to support the Creativity, Activity, Service (CAS) requirement of the International Baccalaureate (IB). Both programs value and promote outside the classroom learning.

The Award prepares students in the Middle Years Programme to engage in CAS, and provides Diploma Programme students with an additional internationally-recognized credential for the activities they are required to complete for their IB diploma. Students in the Career-related Programme also benefit from the Award's alignment with the CP Core.

ONLINE RECORD BOOK

Award Participants use the Online Record Book website and app to set personalized goals, track their weekly activity reflections, and have them confirmed by an activity Assessor. This aligns with the CAS section of platforms like ManageBac.

WHAT OUR PARTNERS SAY

"I can categorically state that [the Award and the IB] complement each other as they promote personal growth, community engagement, and experiential learning. Students in the Award are thoughtfully engaged in a variety of CAS experiences, which enriches their CAS portfolio and provides students with leadership opportunities, community service, and personal development."

Colette Lenaghan, CAS Coordinator and Award Leader at Léman Manhattan Preparatory School

TIME REQUIREMENTS

The Award is set up to be habit building. It requires consistent effort over time. Participants are expected to do at least one hour weekly for each Award Section over the course of 6-18 months, depending on their Award Level of Bronze, Silver, or Gold.
